

This is going to be short and sweet. Telemarketing bugs everyone who doesn't like buying crap on the phone.

Most telemarketers are your friend until you ask their Name, their Advisor's name and their company name. 100% of telemarketers that I have tried to get their information from them (over 50) have hung up on me. And since the caller ID says "private," I have found no way to track them down and report them.

So my only option is to let the phone ring. Make my phone stop ringing!
